PRAGUE - VRTBOVSKÁ ZAHRADA

The Vrtba Garden

Together with three other Baroque gardens (Vratislav, Schönborn and Lobkovicz), the Vrtba Garden is situated on the slope of Petřín Hill and is one of the most precious and beautiful of Prague's Baroque gardens. The creation of this magnificent palace garden is associated with the construction boom around 1720. The garden was designed by František Maxmilián Kaňka, who first renovated the palace for Jan Josef, Count of Vrtba and then created the garden. Unlike the garden which retained its Baroque style without any significant changes, the Vrtba Palace underwent radical changes during the following centuries. The statue and sculpture decorations were created by Matyáš Bernard Braun. In addition, painter Václav Vavřinec Reiner was involved in the masterpiece. The interior decoration of the Sala Terrena has survived in its original designs until today. The fresco on the vault depicting Venus and Adonis was painted by Václav Vavřinec Reiner. In 1990 - 1998, the Vrtba Garden underwent overall reconstruction, following previous static reinforcement. The renovated garden was opened for public on 3 June 1998. The garden is owned by the City of Prague and managed by Casus Direct Mail a.s.

Dear sport friends,

I would like to, in the name of organisers, invite you all applicants of bowling for deaf people to the heart of Europe – Prague. I think you have heard many things about Prague, but haven't been here personally. Prague and most of it the center is very historical city built in the era of Charles IV.

The most beautiful part of Prague in my opinion is Vrtbovska zahrada (Vrtbovska garden), which is under the Prague Castle (seat of the president of Czech republic). From the garden you can see most of the historical part of Prague. Therefore it was chosen for the enclosure of the tourney and place of consequent banquet.

The only problem is, that the garden is very much demanded by foreign travel agencies.

If we would want to have the closing banquet there, we have to pre-pay large amount of money. Therefore it is 50,- EUR per person in the proposal, which has to be paid latest until 31. january 2008. In the price is included entrance fee + menu in the form of buffet + drinks. If we don't have the money until the end of 2008, we will regretablely not be able to order the banquet at Vrtbovska zahrada and will have to order some sort of conferrencion hall in any hotel, from which you will not see the beauty of Prague during day and night.
